IT Assistant

We currently have an exciting opportunity for a new team member to join our dedicated IT team. The right candidate will need good IT skills and a keen interest in developing these skills further. A general aptitude and appreciation of IT systems and development is key, and further training and development will be available to the successful candidate as part of the role. The role will involve a wide variety of IT tasks and support, including general IT support, development and programming.

We are looking for someone who is a good team player, conscientious, reliable and able to work to exacting standards. The successful candidate must have an interest in programming in various languages; Windows, Apple and Web development although full training will be provided and developed over time. Graphic design skills, Excel skills and a capacity for General IT Support are also beneficial.
